

The image features a white background with delicate, black line-art illustrations of leafy branches in the corners. The top-left and top-right corners have branches hanging down, while the bottom-left and bottom-right corners have branches growing upwards. The central text is written in a dark blue, elegant cursive script.

I have found the one in whom my soul delights.

Song of Solomon 3:4